Tommy Porter Storyboard

Task: Try to submit user information to the application with one field not selected, first unsuccessfully and then successfully.

Background: Tommy has recently signed up for a 'Learn to Play Hockey' program at his local ice rink. He has started buying hockey equipment needed to participate in the program. He went to purehockey.com to buy a stick, but he was confused by the options of sticks with a flex of 80, 90, or 100 and stick curves of varying depths. He visits Stick It to determine which hockey stick will work best.

Steps:

1.1 Open the website's home page.

1.4 Enter '195' as input in 'Weight' text box.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'http://stickit.com'. The page title is 'Stick It'. Below the title is a navigation bar with three tabs: 'Find Your Stick', 'Suggest A Stick', and 'How to Shoot'. The 'Find Your Stick' tab is active. The main content area contains a form titled 'Subheading' with the following fields and values:

- Age: 59
- Height: 5' (dropdown menu)
- Weight: 195
- Position: Option 1 (dropdown menu)
- Playing Style: Option 1 (dropdown menu)
- Maximum Price: Option 1 (dropdown menu)

At the bottom of the form are two buttons: 'Submit' and 'Restart'. The form is flanked by two large, empty rectangular areas with diagonal lines.

1.5 Click drop down selections for 'position' and choose LW.

The screenshot shows the same web browser window as the previous one, but the 'Position' dropdown menu is now open, showing the selection 'LW'. The other fields and values remain the same:

- Age: 59
- Height: 5' (dropdown menu)
- Weight: 195
- Position: LW (dropdown menu)
- Playing Style: Option 1 (dropdown menu)
- Maximum Price: Option 1 (dropdown menu)

The 'Submit' and 'Restart' buttons are still visible at the bottom of the form.

1.5 Laura rectifies the error by entering a price.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying 'http://stickit.com'. The website has a header with the title 'Stick It' and a navigation bar with three tabs: 'Find Your Stick', 'Suggest A Stick' (which is active), and 'How to Shoot'. The main content area is divided into three columns by vertical lines. The middle column contains a form titled 'Suggest A Stick'. At the top of the form is a red error message: 'Error: All fields are required'. Below this is a paragraph of placeholder text: 'Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed do eiusmod tempor. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit, sed do eiusmod tempor.' The form fields are: 'Stick name:' with the value 'Bauer Supreme', 'Flex:' with the value '55' and a dropdown arrow, 'Curve:' with the value 'P02', 'Age Level:' with the value 'Intermediate' and a dropdown arrow, and 'Price:' with the value '149'. At the bottom of the form is a 'Submit' button.

1.6 Laura clicks 'Submit' and receives a message confirming that her submission was successful.

The screenshot shows the same web browser window as before, but the 'Suggest A Stick' form is now empty. Instead of the form fields, there is a success message: 'Success! Your new stick was successfully submitted!'. The rest of the website layout, including the header, navigation bar, and column structure, remains the same.

Jack Thompson Storyboard

Task: Watch a video to learn how to take a slap shot.

Background: Jack has been playing hockey in a pick up league for the past year, and has recently started playing as defenseman for his team. He enjoys playing defense, but he feels he is less effective at his position because he only knows how to take wrist shots, not a proper slap shot. Jack wants to watch a video on how to properly take a slap shot.

Steps:

1.1 Open the website's home page.
